Lambda Delta Sigma

Four chapters of Lambda Delta Sigma are enough to keep things hopping at the LDS institute, and things are hopping almost every weekend. The institute provided pleasant surroundings for study and recreation in addition to its religious function.

Besides numerous dances, members of the sizeable religious fraternity enter most campus events, including Homecoming and Winter Carnival. Members also participated in church services of many of the LDS churches in the Pocatello area.

Alpha Chi Omega

Alpha Chi started the year with a bang, won first in women's division float and sign competitions. With six of their members in Who's Who, they lined up an impressive list of activities, such as dinner dances, exchanges and dinner parties. Members chose Neil Soderquist as the "Alpha Chi Guy." For the altruistic project, each girl helped in the Cerebral Palsy school each week.

Alpha Omicron Pi

Among other things, actives took pledges on a guided tour of the cemetery and other points of interest in the year 1955-56. Also there was a reception for Dorothy Warenskjold after her Pocatello Community Concert appearance. Philanthropic project was fulfilled by sending a layette to the Frontier Nursing Service in Kentucky. Initiation banquet was held at the Hotel Bannock, and the outstanding members and pledges were honored.

PHYLLIS KUNKEL
President

Charming representatives of Alpha Omicron Pi study entries in their little black book. Bet you fellows didn't know that women kept these, too.

Comfy cushions of the Blue Room booths provided a typical setting for members' philosophical meanderings.

Gamma Phi Beta

The oldest sorority on campus, Gamma Phi Beta was chartered here October 26, 1949. The organization is now filled to the limit, with thirty-five members, its full quota. Gamma Phis took first with their Homecoming Skit, won a participation trophy for Winter Carnival and their Dream Man and Ugly Man candidates were evidently the dreamiest and the ugliest, because they both won. The group lists among its members the Student Body Vice President, eight girls listed in Who's Who, and several more who served as presidents of various campus organizations. Presentation of gifts to underprivileged children's camps and to children in two hospitals is their philanthropic project.

ALLENE CHESEY
President

This group of charming young Gamma Phis is practicing for a vocal contest, feature of Mother's Weekend.
