Lori Scoffield Beer

I was born and raised in Idaho, and began drawing at a young age. Eventually I took art classes and earned a BFA at Utah State University. I have worked in oils, acrylics and watercolors, as well as pencil. I have also taught myself how to use computer programs such as Photoshop and Illustrator, so I can produce computer illustrations. I have illustrated many books, and I sell my prints online. I feel lucky to have sent my artwork to many countries. Favorite subject matter includes birds and animals, and I especially enjoy drawing birds. Thank you for taking a look at my work- it is the end result of many years of practice and effort.
