JOKES.

Ada—"Have you any thumb tacks?"

Celestine—(Busy manicuring) "No, but would these finger nails do?"

Mary—"What time is 3:50? Is 3:50 4:00 o'clock?"

Marie would not be half so bright if it were not for her shining Ray.

Anna would be in danger if not always protected by a Cannon.

Mary is very fond of Parks in the Spring time.

Grace would not be so wealthy if it were not for her Ruby and "dough" too.

Mr. Holmes—"Mr. Roubidoux, at what time do you weigh the most?"

Ruby—"Well, I weigh the most when I'm nearest the earth."

Lightfoot—"What would happen if you put solid liquids into a test tube?"

J. R.—(In history.)—"Fred, what are the five great races of man?"

Fred T.—(Absently minded)—"The hundred, the two-twenty, the hurdles, the half mile, and the mile."

Mable T.—"How do you like logarithms, Wayne?"

Wayne—"Fine, but I don't know all that I understand about them."

Miss Stearns—(In English)—"Bryan which is right, I am crazy or I am crazy?"

Bryan—"Why, I am crazy, of course."

Mullen reading an ad.—"Would you like to have a lady correspondent. Our stenographer answers all our mail."

In English history class: Teacher—"Miss Bean, what did the king of England do with his opponent?"

Miss B.—"The king captured his opponent, and tossed him up into northern Idaho."

L. Downing—"Do you know that fellows name?"

Ruby—"Sure, Mike Fitzpatrick, he is Irish by Dutch consent."

J. W. S.—(In physical geography)—"Bryan, what is a mountain range?"

Bryan—"I should think it was a range of mountains."

Miss Stearns—"Mr. Pierce, are you staying in for Mis-conduct?"

Mr. Pierce—"No, or Mis-Cooper."

H. White—"Say Gorton, do you know the latest kind of poison?"

Gorton—"No, what is it?"

H. W.—"Aeroplane."

Gorton—"How's that?"

H. W.—"One drop kills you."

Hurdle—"Mullen, do you know any jokes?"

Mullen (looking in the mirror—"No, but I see one."

In the parlor there were three

Ora fair, the lamp, and Lee.

Two is company; no doubt

That is why the lamp went out.

Miss Foley (to Sybil—"Say kid, have you got your lesson?"

Sybil—"Oh, I should say I have. I studied today."

Sybil (to next student)—"Say kid, do, where's the Shorthand lesson for today?"

CALL THE DOCTOR.

A Freshman was wrecked on an African Coast,
Where a Sophomore chief held sway,
And they served up that Freshman on slices of toast
On the eve of that very day.

But the vengeance of heaven came swift
on the act
For the very next moon was seen,
By Cholera Morbus the tribe was attacked.
For that Freshman was terribly green.

Adkison—"This is a leaf of the Japanese Geranium."

Sams—(Raising his hand in an excited manner)—"Isn't that the plant
that blooms every frequently?"

Dunlops davicee to Freshmen—"Don't try to bluff; it takes brains for that."

Mr. Watkins (in assembly)—"Let's try the one on page 69."

Gifford (looking over to Downey)—
"Let 'er go Ray."

Miss S. (in Junior Eng.)—"What is a ballad?"

Mr. Farnlund—"It is just like a tale
only shorter and simpler."

Miss S.—"Have any of you been in or come from Iowa?"

Davis—"I had a teacher once who did?"

In chemistry—"What is the commonest form of lead?"

Bistline—"Lead pipe is the most common."

Davis (in class meeting)—"I rise for information."

Cummins—"I'm glad to hear it, for
no one needs it more than you."

Miss Stearns—"Where is your reference from, Mary?"

Mary Matley—"From the Lookout."

"Rose the sweetest flower that grows."—Larsen.

GENTLE ADA.

Heard in Ada's room from 9:30 to 10:00.
Mable—

"You must wake and call me early.

Call me early, Ada dear,
For tomorrow is the hardest day of all hard days I fear.

I've just got to get my English and we have a Latin test.

Now don't forget dear Ada, or I'll have to fail I guess."

Helen—

"You must wake and call me Ada call me Ada sure at six,

Or I'll not have my Techniad "dope" in
and I will be in a fix.

Now don't forget, dear Ada, and be sure
and call me too.

Oh—dear, (yawning sleepily), I've got so much to do."

Westie—

"Are you going to get up early, call me
Ada if you do.

If I'm not out for tennis Fannie with me
is through."

Grace, Cass, Dorothy.

"Don't wake and call us Ada, call us
early Ada dear,

Disturb us not before seven or we'll lose some sleep we fear." C. W. '14.

Miss S.—(In Junior Eng.) "What is a line called that has four feet in it?"

Bright Junior—"A quadriped."

Henel—(Not quite ready for church)

"Celestine, you go taly to Channey your hair looks good."

Prof.—"A fool can ask questions a wise man can't answer."

Billy R.—"Sure, that's why we all
flunk in exams."

How I love its fluent flow,
How I love to wind my mouth up,
How I love to see it go.
