SPECIALS

CLASS OFFICERS

Hunt Houghton Smith Kelly

CLASS ROLL

Barrett, Cyril
Bethke, Rose
Bischoff, Matthew
Bixler, Beatrice
Brannon, Leota
Briscoe, Edna
Bullock, Myron
Cockrell, Dorothy
Collier, Lillian
Crawford, Walter
Dayton, Oren
Denio, Joseph
Denning, Mrs. Bertha
Denning, Clarence J.
Dodson, Marie
Exeter, Violet
Fletcher, Grace
Frugoli, Domingo
Gallap, Aetna
Gibson, Mark
Gilwitz, Jennie
Gleim, Hazel
Grady, Samuel
Heller, John
Hannifan, Isabel
Harwood, Kenneth
Harger, Henry
Healy, Wm. L.
Hedberg, Esther
Hicks, Edna
Houghton, Harold
Hong, George
House, Clare
Houtz, Veda
Iverson, Thomas
Jensen, Wanda
Jensen, Winnie
Johnson, Luella
Johnson, Luverne
Johnston, Ralph
Jones, Kathleen
Kelley, Emmett
Kennedy, Everett
Kennedy, John
Kirchner, Mrs. May
Kranel, Robert
Lamson, Edith
Large, John R
Larson, Hilda
Lewis, Donald
Lewis, Thelma
Long, Gorman
Long, James
McConnell, Mayme R.
McLaughlin, Lola
McDermett, Lawrence C.
McCormick, Chas. E.
Mackey, Bruce
Masero, Josephine
Medearis, Mrs. Verdie
Neilsen, Henry
Oehman, Elsie
Parker, Dale
Pitkin, Doris T.
Porter, Omni
Purdie, Thelma
Quereau, DeWitt
Rankin, David
Richards, Edna
Richards, Vanola
Roberts, Byron
Rose, Armel
Skadden, Lola
Smith, Bessie
Smith, Lyle
Smith, Marguerite
Smith, Marietta
Snyder, Frank
Spackman, Mary
Sutton, Richard
Tarr, Elmer
Thomas, Robert
Thompson, Jessie
Wade, Lilla
Weatherman, Evelyn
West, Florence
Wheeler, Etna
Wheeler, Edna
Woodland, Andrew
Wray, Lauretta
Wray, Margie
Whittaker, Mildred

SPECIAL VOCATIONAL

There is little need of any introduction to the Special Vocational Class, but, as there are some who are not personally acquainted, we are compelled to speak up.

In September, 1919, we presented a shy and timid appearance, but after a few weeks we came forth, hitting on all six cylinders, to show and use our ability to make good. Our ambitions are to better the world in Commerce, Home Economics, Commercial Dressmaking, Auto Mechanics, Music, Expression, Agriculture, and Science.

We have taken a prominent part in all of the school activities, and were the first in the school year to give a social entertainment. This is the first time the Special Vocational Class has ever attempted to entertain the school, and although the party was on Friday the 13th, it was a great success.

Oda Worrell, Evelyn Weatherman, Jack Emerson and Herbert Thornton won names for themselves in "Why the Chimes Rang," the Christmas play which will be remembered by everyone as being very good. Miss Worrell as the "Old Woman" played the leading part.

One of our members was the representative of the humorous division in the Declamatory Contest, which was held at Gooding. Although she did not win, she was a game loser and showed splendid ability.

Many of our members have served in the World War, not only in the various organizations at home, but in active duty, over there and on the seas. They have also proved themselves good soldiers at home by being loyal to the class.

Much credit is due our officers who have served well. They and all the members have taken the interests of the class to heart and have kept alive the spirit. But now the time has come for school to close and we must return to our homes, far and near. We depart only to return next year, to help uphold the school and make for ourselves a bright and happy future.