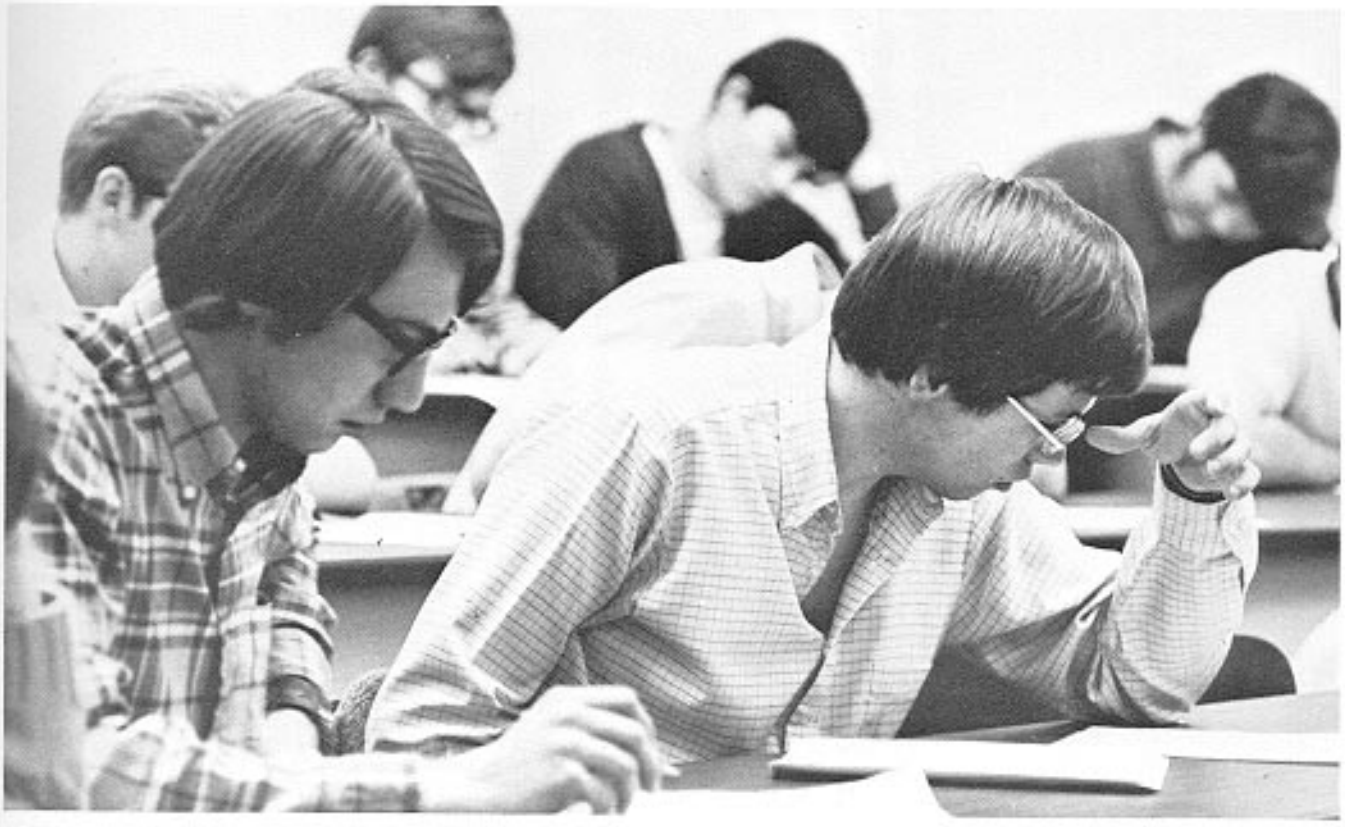
"Who thinks 7:30 A.M. is a good time to have a final? True, False."

Man, If Only . . .

"What was that question again?"



". . . page 41, fourth paragraph, third sentence, now what does it say!"

"Time's up and the only thing I finished was the cigarette!"

Miss Jill Allred, Miss I.S.U. 1970 taking one of her final walks as the reigning Miss I.S.U.

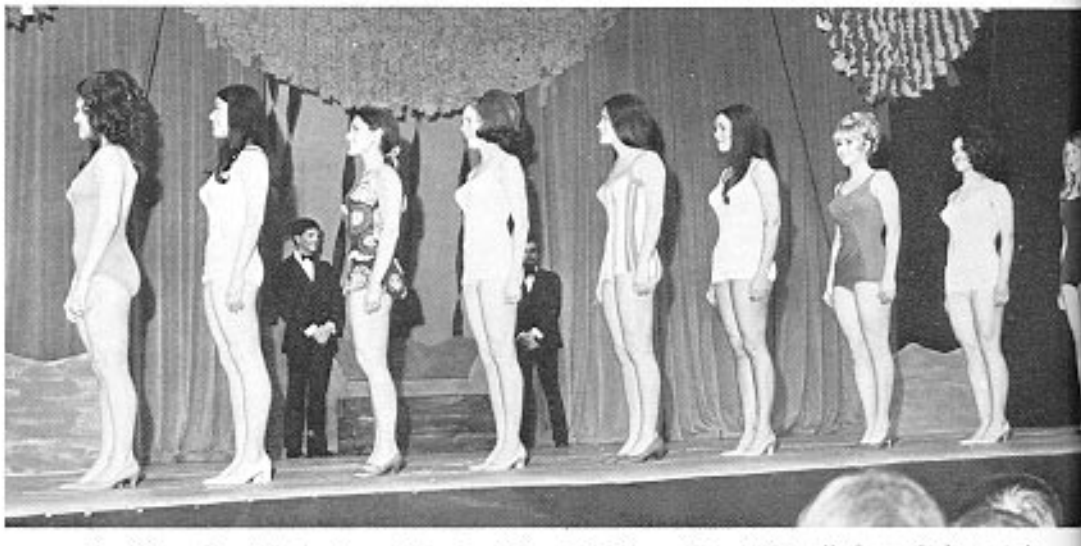
The Miss I.S.U. Pageant is not to be taken lightly by anyone. The contestants for three weeks prior to pageant night go through the complete pageant and then go through it again. But look at what the I.S.U. student receives . . .

Miss Janette Gregoire and Miss Kay Klassy watch as Miss I.S.U. 1970 helps Miss I.S.U. 1971 on with her robe.

Miss Becky Fredrickson shows what can be done when one doodles.

The five finalists, Miss Anita Williams, Miss Cindy Anderson, Miss Susan Graham, Miss Kay Klassy, and Miss Janette Gregoire each awaits her turn to be interviewed.

Miss Susan Honda and Miss Becky Fredrickson look on as Miss Susan Graham is introduced to the audience.



Kay Klassy, Susan Honda, Janette Gregoire, Becky Fredrickson, Debra McDougall, Susan Graham, Anita Williams, Linda Tillotson, and Cindy Anderson all make a 360 degree circle for the judges.

"No pain at all," was the remark of some students, but others had their troubles. Student participation in this year's Red Cross Blood Drive was excellent. The drive was held December 8, 9, and 10 in the Student Union Ballroom. Seven hundred and fifty pints were donated which was well over the quota set at six hundred pints. Circle K did an excellent job organizing the drive and put in many long hours of work. Brian Lamb served as chairman of the project.
