DAYTIME.....

WE MOSTLY GO TO CLASSES

AND TAKE TIME OUT NOW AND THEN

TO GO TO

AN ASSEMBLY...

OR TALK...

OR TO PARTICIPATE IN MUSICAL ACTIVITIES...

The campus was strangely silent this year, disturbed only now and then by bits of melody coming from Swanson, or the deep rumbling of the organ in Frazier.

The Navy Chorus, again under the direction of Professor Rudolph Goranson, was too shy to make a public appearance. It seems all the males preferred singing straight melody in the easy ranges, leaving a shortage of first tenors and basses. The basses often heard cracking the plaster in the shower room must have been holding out.

Genial Dick Kerr, civilian pharmacy major, displayed his unusual talent on the organ. His organ recital was one of the musical highlights of the term.

Most any afternoon we could hear the gushes of music from Swanson, originating from modest Louis Weertz at the piano. The Hollywood genius, besides being a composer and classical virtuoso, can really beat out with the boogie. Assemblies weren't complete without a bit of wonderful Weertz-Woogie to send us way up in the blue.

ALL OF US HAVE OUR TROUBLES...

If it was archery, one could be sure of a couple of male bystanders to come out with helpful hints. If it happened to be tennis, it was a day in a million if you didn't spend half of the time beating the weeds outside the courts for a tennis ball. And if it was golf, and you didn't come home with a sunburn, or if you only lost two balls in the river, or if you shot at least four over par each hole... well then, you were just one of the luckier individuals.

Yes, we all had our troubles.

AND P. T. GIVES

US PLENTY

It's anything for the Navy, that is, when it comes to P. T. The favorite hour of the day and the one which is anxiously awaited is that one during which everyone is given the opportunity to take sunbaths and do what they like. We are told that all this is done to make us strong but at times it is honestly thought that these exercises have been carried to extremes.
