

Dear Students and Faculty:

We have gone through six semesters with our magazine taking the wartime place of the Wickiup. We have watched the goings-on at U.I.S.B. while the sailors were here and it was a sailor who gave our pictorial the colorful name it now bears.

This is the last semester the campus will have Navy students. Next fall the school will be getting back to a normal peacetime pace with all civilians as students. A good percentage of these students will be heroes of World War II and it will be their task to reconvert U.I.S.B. into a peacetime school. Along with this reconversion will come the change from "Dittybag" to "Wickiup," making this issue of "Dittybag" the last.

Since this is the last issue, we have endeavored to make it the best issue. We have attempted to plan it in true magazine style with photographs which will bring back pleasant memories of life at U.I.S.B.

To the Navy men we wish to extend our congratulations on their work here and we sincerely hope that a brilliant future lies in store for them.

To the civilians who are leaving this school we wish to extend our wishes for the best of luck wherever they go.

To those students who are planning on attending U.I.S.B. next fall let us remind you that you will be the school's leaders, and even though U.I.S.B. is a small school let us also remind you that, "It ain't the size of the dog in the fight; it's the size of the fight in the dog."

Best wishes, everybody,

"Ditty" and his staff.

LIBRARY
IDAHO STATE COLLEGE
Pocatello

Staff

Editor	Kay Kreth
Associate Editor and Photographer	Mary Jean Hargraves
Business Manager	Charles Davis
Literary Editor	Al Weese
Feature Writers	Bodell Smith Earl King Marshall Bingham Doc Taylor
Cartoonist	Doc Taylor
Advertising	Barbara Bohor
Photographer	Roy Dimond

Cover Picture

Since Easter was the most important event of the semester we chose a picture with an Easter setting for the cover picture of this issue. Al Connors and Joan Pilchard are shown leaving the Church after Easter Services.

Contents

Rotogravure
Military Life
Theatre
Coffee Dance
Easter Story
Navy Activities
Salt Lake Unit
Civilian Men
All College Ball
Concerts
Women's Activities
Sports
Miss Elaneous

Lithographed and Cerlox Bound
By
GATEWAY PRINTERS, INC.
Pocatello, Idaho

LIBRARY
IDAHO STATE COLLEGE
Pocatello

When Franklin Delano Roosevelt died, the nation faltered, stunned by the loss of her leader. She soon resumed her course as would be his wish. It is to our fallen leader that we respectfully dedicate this last issue of the Dittybag.

45276

Miss Dorothy Greaves of the Southern Idaho University models a "Marjone" dress from the "Marjone" Exclusive Sportswear collection at the Sydney Talley Shop, 356 West Center Street, Pocatello, Idaho.

I shot an arrow into the air.

We lose more darn
V-12s that way.

